

Before you begin, is TCS right for you?

The relationship between Tuscaloosa Christian School and the home is extremely important. There must be agreement between parents, teachers, and administration to fulfill the mission of the school. Keeping this in mind, the following questions can serve as a guide in determining if TCS is right for your family.

If you cannot answer yes to the following questions, Tuscaloosa Christian School may not be a good fit for your family.

1. Are you a Christian?
2. Are you interested in a challenging program that strives to teach academics in the light of Biblical truth?
3. Do you support high moral standards in dress, talk, thought, and motive?
4. Are you willing to support the principles, policies, personnel, and procedures set forth at Tuscaloosa Christian School?
5. Do you believe that the spiritual part of the individual is important and should not be neglected?
6. Do you believe that Tuscaloosa Christian School is a work of God and not just another private school?
7. Are you and your family faithfully attending a good Bible-believing church?
8. Do you consider attendance at Tuscaloosa Christian School a privilege and not a right?
